The Kershaw County W.P.A. Library Project with headquarters in Camden serves the entire white population of Kershaw County. The book truck made possible by the W.P.A. began service April 1937. In addition to eighty-six stops deposits are left in eight schools and there are three deposit libraries in Liberty Hill, Kershaw and Bethune. A loan of W.P.A. books supplements those owned by the county.

The Camden Public Library also receives support from the town and county. The appropriation for 1939 was $400. Mrs. Donald Morrison, librarian, reports that the bookstock is 9,223. The circulation in 1939 was 9,932 to the 1,099 registered borrowers.
